

AFTER EFFECTS OF POLIO CAN HARM SURVIVORS 40 YEARS LATER

Few Doctors Recognize Little-Known Condition

Embargoed: 4:00 p.m. EDT, Monday, June 4, 2001

Contacts: Nils Hoffman, office: 703-820-2244/cell: 703-967-1490
Michele Kling, office: 914-997-4613

B-Roll Shot Sheet

00:45:55 Available reports information
00:46:06 Contact information
00:46:19 March of Dimes logo
00:46:45 Exterior shot of March of Dimes headquarters
00:47:00 Various historical footage of polio victims, iron lungs, treatments, children with leg braces
00:48:40 Historical footage of President Roosevelt
00:49:10 Modern day children with polio in Africa
00:49:15 Modern day children with polio in India

B-Roll footage of Dr. Lauro Halstead, National Rehabilitation Hospital, polio expert and victim of post-polio syndrome (PPS).

00:50:25 Dr. Halstead meeting with polio patient.
00:50:44 Dr. Halstead examining polio patient's leg braces.
00:51:40 Dr. Halstead examining polio patient's foot.
00:53:09 Dr. Halstead on scooter driving through the clinic.
00:53:30 Dr. Halstead on scooter, talking with nurse.
00:54:30 Dr. Halstead working behind desk, looking through patient files and talking on telephone.

Interview with Dr. Halstead, National Rehabilitation Hospital, polio expert and victim of post-polio syndrome (PPS).

00:56:09 What happened in the 1980s to make you think that you had a new condition?
00:57:51 How has post polio syndrome affected you personally?
00:59:35 How were you able to discover you had PPS?
01:01:20 What kinds of treatments are available to victims of PPS?
01:03:27 What is the status of PPS in the United States today?
01:04:18 What is the status of PPS worldwide today?